Step 3: Lock And Load - Your Domain Name

If you're going to have a trustworthy, believable and memorable presence online, you're going to need a great domain name for your squeeze page.

First, though, you're going to need to do a bit of legwork, so you can be sure you're choosing the best possible name for your site.

First, get on the External Keyword Tool at <https://adwords.google.com/select/KeywordToolExternal>. Type in your niche subject, and look at the list of keywords it gives you. For example:

How would you like to generate keyword ideas?

Descriptive words or phrases
(e.g. green tea)

Website content
(e.g. www.example.com/product?id=74893)

Enter one keyword or phrase per line:

Use synonyms

You see, thousands of great domain name ideas for you to choose, for example you pick a domain such as helpmeloseweight.com

Then, head over to <http://www.godaddy.com>. It's a user-friendly domain seller and hosting service. If you have another site you like better, go ahead and use it. But for first-time marketers, Go Daddy is easy as pie.

You want to try combinations of those keywords and see which ones come back as available domain names. Some stuff to remember as you do this:

- Keep it short and sweet. Don't have 14 words in your domain name - no one will remember it.
- Don't use funky spellings. Try to avoid using words that people often misspell.
- If you've got your heart set on a name but it's taken, try it with dashes (-) in between each word.
- Get a ".com" domain name. People remember these better than ".info," ".biz" and the like.

When you've chosen the perfect domain name, register it - and it's all yours! Next step is to have a web host (that links to your chosen domain name) and then upload your squeeze page to the host.

If you are not familiar with making a website, here is where you can learn from. Very easily-click here:

If you don't want to buy a domain, here are the few alternatives to make a website without a host or domain:

- Squidoo: Use this to make a website for free.
- Wordpress: Build your blog for free. You can set up a squeeze page in your blog easily too!
- Other Web 2.0 sites: you can try any other Web2.0 services that allow you to build your own page. But you must know how to integrate the autoresponder script into your page.

In order to build attractive squeeze pages, you need to have good graphics, here are some nice squeeze pages templates for you to download free, use them to build your squeeze page by just changing the titles etc...:
